Contents

Introduction .................................................................................. 7

The Consolations of Exile: Evelyn Waugh and Catholicism .......... 11
J.V. LONG

The Humanizing Factor: Evelyn Waugh’s “Very Personal View of Providence” ................................................................. 21
DONAT GALLAGHER

Catholicism and Form from Hopkins to Waugh ......................... 37
PATRICK QUERY

“All gentlemen are now very old”: Waugh, Nostalgia and the Image of the English Gentleman ................................. 45
CHRISTINE BERBERICH

Helena in Room 101: The Sum of Truth in Waugh and Orwell ................................................................. 59
GEORGE MCCARTNEY

Evelyn Waugh’s Audiences .................................................... 71
ROBERT MURRAY DAVIS

Evelyn Waugh, Biographer ....................................................... 91
ALAIN BLAYAC

Emma Bovary’s and Brenda Last’s Reception:
The Affective Fallacy ............................................................. 103
MARIA LUISA LAZARO

Mexico Imagined: Robbery Under Law and the Lessons of Mexican Travel ......................................... 115
DAN S. KOSTOPULOS

Places of the Mind: Locating Brideshead Revisited ................ 131
RUTH BREEZE
Textual Indicators of Characterisation: A Narratological Approach to Brideshead Revisited .......... 147
CARLOS VILLAR FLOR

The Spoken and the Unspoken: The Homosexual Theme in E.M. Forster and Evelyn Waugh ......................... 155
ROBERTO A. VALDEÓN GARCÍA

Dialogue Between E. Waugh and G. Greene: Two Different Approaches to Art and Religion in Brideshead Revisited and The End of the Affair ..................... 181
CRISTINA FLORES MORENO

Brideshead Re-Positioned: Re-Ma(r)king Text and Tone in Filmed Adaptation ......................... 193
PATRICK DENMAN FLANERY

Religion and Reconciliation in Helena ..................... 211
Mª EULÁLIA CARCELLER GUILLAMET

Evelyn Waugh’s Sword of Honour: The Invention of Disillusion ......................... 225
ALAN MUNTON

“Not A Man For Whom I Ever had Esteem”: Evelyn Waugh on Winston Churchill ..................... 247
JOHN HOWARD WILSON

Fatherhood: A Way to Sanctity in Bill Anderson’s Adaptation of Evelyn Waugh’s Sword of Honour ..................... 259
JOSÉ DÍAZ-CUESTA & MAR ASENSIO ARÓSTEGUI

Fictionalising Memory: Waugh’s A Little Learning ..................... 275
GABRIEL INSAUSTI